Beercat philosophy

“Good Food, Not Fast Food”

Where we can, we make it on the premises – from the beer to the burgers to the desserts. If we have to buy it, we try to ensure that the producer is local and of the quality is of the highest. We try to use seasonal products wherever we can: our sauces, chutneys and relishes are made preserving fruit in season and which benefit from maturing. We don't use meat from factory farms and only use producers with high welfare standards.
